A C K N O W L E D G E M E N T S

My most sincere gratitude is due to my supervisors Dr.V.Ramakrishna* , Senior Professor in Physical Chemistry and Dr.(Mrs) P.Vasudevan, Department of Chemistry, Indian Institute of Technology, Delhi, whose continued interest, constructive criticism and valuable advice were always a source of encouragement to me.

I am profoundly grateful to Dr.S.K.Suri for useful discussion and moral support. Thanks are also due to Dr.N.K.Jha for his interest in the progress of the work. It is a pleasure to acknowledge the cooperation received from all the graduate students of the department particularly from Mr.R.C.Maheshwari, Mr.Surendra Sharma, Mr.S.K.Syal and Dr.R.K.Sood for helping me at all possible odd hours and also for proof reading the manuscript.

I am also grateful to Dr.A.J.Matheson, Department of Chemistry, University of Essex, Colchester, (UK) for helping me in low temperature DTA.

I am also thankful to all the members of non-teaching staff of Chemistry Department in particular to Mr.P.N.Manon, Mr.B.M.Singhal, Mr.Bala Dutt and Mr.V.L.Sharma for cheerfully coming to my assistance on countless occasions.

* Chief Scientist, Defence R.& D. Organization, Ministry of Defence, Government of India, New Delhi.

I take this opportunity to thank the Director, Indian Institute of Technology, Delhi, for providing necessary facilities for carrying out the research work and for the award of a research fellowship during the tenure of study.

I also thank my wife Uma who took on the family's communal responsibilities and thus let me commune with the melts.

Last, but not least, my thanks go to Mr.T.R.Sharma and Mr.N.L.Arora of this department for executing the task of
