Acknowledgements

This work owes a lot to Prof. Vinayshil Gautam who has been a constant source of encouragement and guidance. But for his continued support and periodic prodding, this work may not have seen the light of the day.

This researcher owes a deep sense of gratitude to his wife Indira and children Charu, Rama and Raghu for having borne all the discomforts during the period of the present study as well as writing of the thesis.

Thanks are due to Shri HS Murthy for having patiently worked on the material using his word processor package through which a number of drafts were made. S/Shri Manbar Singh and Satyavir Singh deserve thanks for an excellent secretarial support.

The researcher owes his thanks to Shri Sujit Banerjee for having encoded the complete computer programme called "Marg Darshak" in the BASIC language.

Apart from Sujit, other colleagues like Mittal and Shukla gave valuable suggestions. Thanks are due to them.

Thanks are due to a large number of Teachers of the Centre for Management Studies, IIT-Delhi. Without their active support and guidance, it would not have been possible to complete this work.

There are many more persons personally known or otherwise to the researcher who have helped in completing the study. Though one would like to personally acknowledge each one of them, limitations of space dictate that at least their contributions be acknowledged somewhat similar to the contributions made to the "Unknown Soldier".
